

Full List of Rehearsal Expectations

In applying our guidelines for success to a daily context, we have established these rehearsal expectations to be followed by every student, every day. It is each student's responsibility to clearly understand and abide by these guidelines once they enter the Band Hall.

1. Be ready to participate when rehearsal starts. Your playing position and embouchure should be set every time the director counts off - Be Punctual.
2. Have all materials you need before rehearsal starts, including a pencil on EVERY stand. Stopping the rehearsal to get things wastes time - Be Prepared.
3. Always play with the correct balanced posture for your instrument. Your hand and playing position should always be relaxed and polished - Be Disciplined.
4. Keep eye contact with the director at all times. Anything that disrupts the flow of rehearsal is considered to be poor rehearsal etiquette - Be Disciplined.
5. Every rehearsal has natural breaks or pauses in the sequence. If you have a question, wait until there is a natural pause and always raise your hand. Make transitions smooth, quiet, and seamless - Be Disciplined.
6. Mark corrections that the director or other members point out so that you will remember it next time. The more you mark, the less we stop. Wasted time results in sloppy performances - Be Disciplined.
7. Contribute positive body language and energy to every rehearsal. Hard work beats talent every time - Be Relentless.
8. Act in a way which does not create problems for others. When other sections are rehearsing, listen and watch what they are doing - you will probably have to do the same thing yourself. Do not talk or disrupt - the director will take this as a sign of disrespect to both the director and the other performers - Be Relentless.
9. Apply what you already know to different spots in the music. This makes the rehearsal more efficient and effective - Be Superior.
10. Every rehearsal goes through the process of breaking down music into small sections. It is during these stopping and restarting times that the director and members should evaluate the aspects of what went well or need to be fixed. Make sure your behavior is always productive and effective in achieving our goals - Be Superior.
